what are we gonna do?

We will be working in the Cameron Parish of Louisiana doing demolition and/or construction work related to the damages of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

This has been a largely neglected area.

We will attempt to get the Bayou experience, although we'll only be on the fringes of it. We'll taste the Cajun cooking of true Louisiana residents, spot some crocodiles and other marsh wildlife, and explore a local beach.

Come Friday we'll go into the "big city" of Houston and enjoy some sun on Galveston Beach and stay the night on the island. We will go into Houston that night to see the Astros take on the Mets.

trip covenant

- Respect. Everybody. Everywhere. All the time
 - Be where you are supposed to be, when you supposed to be there.
- Not be where you are supposed to be.
 - Never be alone. Travel in groups of three.
 - Use your head...it'll help you know when you'll have fun for the rest of the trip or if you'll be spending a lot of time at home or with your parents when they come get you.
- Take it all in...you only have this experience once.
 - Be safe on the work-site.
 - Although this shouldn't have to be said...no weapons, alcohol, tobacco, drugs, no skimpy clothes (girls should also follow this rule)
